MANOR of GROVES

Superb Golf in a Picturesque Parkland Setting

Manor of Groves is home to a stunning 18 hole championship course set in 150 acres of beautiful rolling Hertfordshire countryside less than 10 minutes away from Harlow and Bishops Stortford.

The par 71, 6,237 yard layout has been subject to a large investment of time and effort over the last couple of years to improve the already fine design. Divided into two differing nine hole loops, the front nine weaves in and around the old manor gardens whilst the back nine has wide sweeping fairways stretching out over magnificent parkland. US style sandbedded greens always mean excellent playing conditions even in the winter months.

The relaxing Members' area ~ The Viewing Gallery ~ features fabulous views of the 1st Tee and 18th Green. The generously proportioned space includes bar area, reception, lounge and a Pro Shop built to the highest specification.

Manor of Groves prides itself on high levels of service and outstanding facilities. This, coupled with monthly or annual payment options, makes it one of the finest clubs in the area. New for 2009 we are launching our Privilege Club to provide members with discounts throughout the Hotel, Leisure Centre and Golf Club.

Also ideal for Golf Societies, Manor of Groves really appreciate how demanding organising a Society Day can be so they aim to make the day as stress free as possible at all stages of the process. The team understand your needs and can tailor services and facilities to suit them.

A LEARNING centre providing specialist training and advice to hundreds of unemployed people across Harlow will be forced to close by the end of the month.

Since it opened in West Gate 11 months ago, The Learning Shop has helped 144 local people gain qualifications in literacy, numeracy and computer skills.

Recently it has been dealing with an unprecedented demand for its services, but now faces closure after Government agency University for Industry announced it was axing its Learn Direct funding because it had failed to meet strict training targets.

"Frankly, this could not have come at a worse time," said Charles Montlake, director of education at the town centre shop.

"If the Government wants to help the unemployed get back into work and help drag the country out of recession, it should be ploughing more money into training centres like ours, not taking it away."

According to the Government's own figures, four out of five of Harlow's adult population do not have GCSE-equivalent skills in numeracy while 58 per cent lack the same level of literacy skills.

Although there is currently a second Learning Shop at Slacksbury Hatch, Mr Montlake said he believed it too would be forced to shut later this year.

"Where are people supposed to go to learn the vital skills and gain the qualifications they need to find work during a recession?" he added.

Jane Ellis, performance director for the University for Industry's eastern region, said the recession had put enormous pressure on its resources and had forced it to make a number of cut-backs.

"UFI receives funds annually from the Learning and Skills Council, which is used to meet training priorities identified by the Government," she said.

"Centres receive contracts annually which set out priorities for that year and while we work to reallocate funding to high-need areas, we can only continue to allocate funding where performance fulfils training priorities."

Harlow MP Bill Rammell has also expressed his disappointment with UFI's decision to withdraw funding from the service, adding that he will be supporting an appeal from the Learning Shop against the decision.

Fun with a May Day pole dance

MAY Day was celebrated in style when children performed a traditional maypole dance in Harlow town centre on Friday.

Dozens of shoppers stopped to watch the display put on by pupils from The Downs Primary School with the help of professionals from Loughborough. The entertainment was organised by the Harlow Town Centre Partnership.

Richard Dennerly, town centre development manager, said: "Everyone had a thoroughly good time and people who stopped to watch said they enjoyed it. It was a fun, community event."

SEATS ON HARLOW COUNCIL
Conservatives 18, Liberal Democrats 9, Labour 6

LIBERAL Democrats are hailing their victory in Thursday's Staple Tye by-election as the beginning of the end for Harlow's underfire Conservative administration.

John Strachan won the seat vacated by former Tory councillor David Kirton with a 60-vote majority, strengthening the Lib Dems' position as the main opposition party on the council.

By CHRIS MOSS

Conservative Lorraine Caldarella finished second with 544 votes, Labour's Dennis Palmer was third with 329 votes and UKIP candidate Daniel Balding trailed in fourth with 66 votes.

The result leaves the Conservatives in control with 18 seats, Liberal Democrats with nine and Labour six.

Mr Strachan overturned the Tories' 292 majority in a result which he described as a clear indication that voters were becoming disillusioned with the current administration.

"I knew from the reaction on the doorstep that people are getting fed up with the way the town is being run and this by-election result has given the strongest indication yet that the Tories' days are numbered," he told the Star.

"This is the first real test they have had since coming to power last May and I have to say it was a real pleasure to wipe the smug looks off some of their faces.

"I want to thank the people of Staple Tye for putting their trust in me to fight against the cutbacks on their behalf. It's time for change and I won't let them down."

Liberal Democrat group leader Chris Millington added: "This was a tremendous result for us and Harlow as a whole. John has worked incredibly hard in the build-up to this by-election and he fully deserves his victory.

"The fact the Tories have lost more than 300 votes in under a year is quite astonishing and illustrates just how angry people are at the way they are systematically dismantling the town with their devastating cutbacks."

But council leader Andrew Johnson remained defiant. "The situations surrounding the by-election were very difficult for us; we had to take some very tough decisions that we knew not everyone would agree with when left with the financial mess of the last Liberal/Labour administration.

"In the end it looks like UKIP cost us a very close fought election in what is traditionally the Liberals' safest seat."

Labour group leader Mark Wilkinson said: "After 12 months of Tory rule in this town people have seen what they are like and how they behave in cutting many services we hold dear.

"I hope Harlow voters bear this in mind in the forthcoming county, European and general elections."

Waste changes rushed through

SIR, The Conservatives have finally pushed through the controversial waste agreement between Essex County Council and Harlow Council. But what happened to their promise to fully engage with the community on this vital decision affecting everyone?

They ignored a petition of 2,459 names collected over a few days and a survey indicating overwhelming opposition to fortnightly collections. Councillors were prevented from calling in the decision for a thorough public scrutiny.

Our earlier consultations in 2002 and 2005 clearly showed enthusiasm for waste reduction, increasing recycling and composting rates and avoiding landfill. The Tories' consultation after their proposals were published merely explained changes without entering into a dialogue. What was needed was an extensive estate-by-estate consultation or even a referendum on fundamental changes.

Residents were opposed to fortnightly collections on health and safety grounds. The original design of the town raised additional problems over wheeled bins. Sir Frederick Gibberd wanted green open spaces which also entailed smaller gardens, often at the back, while built-in cupboards at the front accommodated dustbins. Many terraces have narrow pavements, hazardous for wheelchair users and pushchairs confronted by rows of large wheeled bins.

Elderly and disabled residents voiced concerns about struggling to move bins for collection. Assisted collections will continue but to what extent? It's up to the contractor.

Essex has modest ambitions for recycling and composting: a 60 per cent increase by 2020. Yet the Tory administration says it doesn't even want to be held to this target.

The likelihood of being locked into a PFI contract for 28 years is very worrying. It means being wedded to this particular strategy and lacks flexibility. It will also involve exorbitant costs, not to mention the massive outlay on wheelie bins and £250k to introduce the scheme.

The Tories have rushed this through, leaving residents to pick up the tabs without listening to their fundamental objections. So much for engaging with the community and democratic accountability!

Jean Clark, deputy Labour leader Harlow Council, Civic Centre

Muted sounds of the summer

SIR, We have finally had some glorious weather that fitted perfectly with the beginning of our Bank Holiday weekend. What a shame that my enjoyment of the fine weather was ruined by the cacophony of sounds from my neighbours' houses.

I would love to have enjoyed breakfast in the sunshine listening to birdsong but instead my neighbours thought I would much prefer to listen to Rubbish-FM from 7.30am to 7pm, thus monopolizing any time I would have liked in my garden.

Sadly, housebuilders are forcing us to live in ever-decreasing spaces so we need to be more considerate towards each other.

Before turning on your choice of listening, please consider whether your neighbours are awake, are their windows open or is your choice of listening material the same as theirs?

You can also help reduce noise by keeping the sound close to you, using headphones or turning the Open your front door for glimpse of reality

SIR, I enjoy the letters page of the Star and regularly laugh out loud at the often blinkered view some readers have of Harlow, but on this occasion I felt I had to respond to S. Sadler's comments (Letters, April 30).

I wasn't born in Harlow but have lived here nearly 30 years and feel that the reputation it carries as a town is undeserved.

I have never seen packs of drug-taking, drunk, violent youths - sorry, thugs - rampaging through the town assaulting whosoever blocks their path. I assume Mr Sadler gets his view on the world from the pages of the Daily Mail.

His criticism of the PCSOs is completely at odds with the reality most of us see on the streets. Although not fully fledged police officers, they have to work to the same strict rules as the conventional police force and do a pretty good job under what must be a challenging role at the best of times.

I hate to say it but alas there has always been crime since the dawn of time. Sadly many people have a short memory and insist that it was good honest crime done with a wink and a smile.

We must also not forget these "trained tongue-twisting barristers" that the court system is allegedly riddled with.

Some words of advice to Mr Sadler - put the Daily Mail down, turn off The Bill and open your front door. Thankfully the world I inhabit is the real one and isn't as depressing as yours.

Brian Hopcroft Freshwaters, Harlow

sound off when you leave the garden or are using power tools.

Summer is hopefully here and we should all be allowed to enjoy it.

Ashley Bliss Wychoff Drive, Sawbridgeworth

Why no single hour charge?

SIR, When going to park in the car park opposite the Post Office building I was horrified to find the cost had gone up again to £1 for two hours.

A lot of people, myself included, often use this car park for a matter of less than an hour and the council has never had a charge for an hour's parking, unlike many other car parks - in Epping, for example.

Quite a lot of people park their cars in order to go into town briefly, often for just about 30 minutes. Why should we be penalised by being made to pay £1 for this?

Apart from anything else, the car park itself is full of potholes and rubbish. It's hardly somewhere you would want to leave your car for two hours unless you were desperate.

If the council is going to keep raising the charge like this then they cannot be surprised if people go to Epping for their shopping to the detriment of Harlow's town centre shops.

E. H. Cuthbert Manor Hatch Close, Harlow

I support any improvements

SIR, I appreciate it could be a bit tedious printing replies to letters in your paper but may I expand on my explanation on how the proposal to dual the A414 from the M11 roundabout to Southern Way will be of benefit.

It will greatly reduce the chance of traffic queuing on to the M11 Hastingwood roundabout, thus reducing the potential for gridlock on that roundabout. Only yesterday, coming home off the M11 northbound, I could not leave the slip road due to traffic build up as the traffic was backed up onto the roundabout.

As the road will be dualled all the way to the Southern Way roundabout it will be able to hold a volume of traffic sufficient to ensure that the traffic is not then backed up to the M11 roundabout.

I am also of the opinion that this will improve the flow of traffic into and out of Harlow sufficiently that the hold-ups during the busiest part of the rush hour will be less severe and shorter lived, although I accept that this remains to be seen, especially as I have not seen exact details of the proposed road layout.

I agree the proposal is not nearly enough and I believe they should have at least dualled up to the Clock House Tower roundabout which would then have linked to the small bit of dual carriageway to Church Langley. This would have meant that the first bottleneck into Harlow would have been one of the current ones after the Church Langley roundabout which is a point after a lot of incoming traffic will have already turned off.

I also support the proposed northern bypass, but this seems like something that could be some way off, if at all, and therefore I will take any improvement that we can get in the meantime.

A review and a remedy of all the congestion issues in Harlow would be great but I just don't see that happening in the current financial climate. So given a choice of piecemeal improvements or no improvements at all, then I shall take, and be grateful for, the piecemeal option.

Adrian Deeks Tunnmeade, Harlow

We were taught road courtesy

SIR, In reply to Michael Edwards' (Letters, April 30), I fully admit the bus driver was in the right lane. It was his response after the fact that I was complaining about.

As a former London Country and London Transport bus driver and inspector I know full well about road signs and the consequences of not obeying them.

When I passed my PSV test in 1972 we were taught to be courteous to other road users which is more than I can say for some of the exhibitions of bus driving in Harlow now.

Jailed knife attacker to face deportation

A MAN who stabbed and slashed a colleague following a row over cleaning has been jailed and told he will be deported when he completes his sentence.

Aleksandrs Grinuks (25) knifed Raimonds Valdmans in the chest and side at Barley Croft, Harlow, last November. Chelmsford Crown Court was told. Grinuks also held the knife to the victim's throat before throwing him out of the house.

The court was told that Grinuks wanted to teach Mr Valdmans a lesson about leaving the house so dirty.

Grinuks was initially arrested on suspicion of attempted murder but was later charged with wounding with intent to which he pleaded guilty. He was jailed for three years and three months.

The court was told he had come to Britain from Latvia after seeing an advert on the internet for factory work. He was placed in the house with four other men, including the victim and the victim's brother who were also from Latvia.

Marcus Crosskell, prosecuting, said that on the day of the stabbing Grinuks had been drinking heavily and got annoyed about the state of the house.

Ben Hargreaves, representing Grinuks, said in mitigation that although the five housemates got on well at first, differences came to the fore.

Town 'a magnet' for new retailers

HARLOW continues to buck the national trend of shopping centres falling victim to the recession.

Several new stores have opened in the town centre just a week after three new outlets started trading at the Harvey Centre.

Among the new additions in Broad Walk is jewellery shop Diamonds & Pearls and low-cost homeware and soft furnishings chain Budget Lines.

"There is a lot of interest in the other units," said town centre development manager Richard Dennerly, who hopes to make more announcements in the near future.

"There are fewer empty units in Harlow now than there were in October 2008 when the impact of the credit crunch was really beginning to be felt.

"What is particularly interesting is how differently Harlow is doing compared with much of the rest of the country. It is normal to see retail units becoming available just after the Christmas trading period has ended, and Harlow's numbers jumped up in January and February as expected. But instead of continuing to increase, the number of empties has shrunk."

He added: "The town has a magnetic quality which is attracting new retailers. Our location, our incredibly loyal customers and the promise of major redevelopment in the not-too-distant future are all adding to its attractiveness in what elsewhere continues to be a very difficult market."

Firebomb 'target' in video link

THE alleged target of a firebomb which killed a young woman and left her boyfriend permanently brain damaged spoke this week of his terror after hearing the news of the blaze on the radio.

Giving evidence via a video link, Darren Satchwell told a jury at Chelmsford Crown Court on Tuesday he had been staying with a friend on the night of the fire and heard the report while in a taxi.

"It came over the radio and said the address," he said. "I went straight to my mother's old people's home. Police were there. I was terrified."

Mr Satchwell, who has a history of drug use and suffers paranoid schizophrenia, also recounted some of the incidents he had suffered at his flat at Sherwood House, Bush Fair, including damage to the property, people spitting in his face and burglary.

"I just got a feeling to get out of the place," he said. "I was scared."

Kerry Youngs (24), who lived with her boyfriend Kevin Chapple (31) in the flat above Mr Satchwell, never regained consciousness after she was rescued from the burning building by firefighters.

The prosecution alleges two boys – then aged 13 and 14 – started the fire and the subsequent police investigation was hindered when lies were told about their whereabouts.

Carl Manton, now 18, of Long Banks, Harlow and a 17-year-old boy, also from Harlow, who for legal reasons cannot be named, are accused of murder and grievous bodily harm. They deny the charges.

They also deny manslaughter and arson with intent to endanger life and being reckless as to whether life was endangered.

The mother of the younger boy and a 37-year-old man from Woodford Green deny committing acts tending or intending to pervert the course of justice by making a false statement about the boy's whereabouts. A 15-year-old girl denies making a false statement. The trial continues.

Getting a kick from Fairtrade

CELEBRATIONS to mark the first anniversary of Harlow being named a Fairtrade Town kicked off in style when 50 footballs were donated to schoolchildren.

The Harlow Gateway Project presented the gift to Mark Hall Community School and Sports College on Friday.

The town was awarded the title for its active participation in promoting Fairtrade products which help disadvantaged farmers get a better deal.

School PE director June Tulloch said: "This not only provides us with some great new sports equipment but highlights the sporting and leisure elements of the project and the town's Fairtrade principles."

A Gateway spokeswoman added: "Marking Harlow's Fairtrade anniversary with the donation of footballs will not only provide hours of entertainment on the pitch but also spark interest in Harlow's achievements among the town's younger people."

Charity abseilers' towering triumph

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoon@hertsessexnews.co.ukDAREDEVILS with a head for heights raised thousands of pounds for worthy causes by lowering themselves down the side of the Church Langley water tower at the weekend.

A total of 235 people took part in the 12th Harlow Tye Rotary Club abseil which raised more than £57,000 for between 40-50 organisations.

Among those who took part was plucky pensioner Harry Joseph (93), pictured right, from Harlow who last year was crowned the oldest person in the world to abseil 110ft.

This year he raised £1,000 which will go to St Clare Hospice and the Essex and Herts Air Ambulance.

Other charities to benefit included the Not Forgotten Association, which provides recreational and leisure facilities for ex-servicemen and women with disabilities and the Catholic Agency for Overseas Development, while Epping Forest District

Council John Knapman raised more than over £1,500 for his charity fund.

In addition, several hundreds of pounds made from refreshments and side shows – provided and manned by club members' wives – will be donated to the for Help for Heroes campaign.

The total raised by the event over the past 12 years has now exceeded £500,000. During that time more than 2,500 people have made the descent and around 500 organisations and charities have benefited.

Don Cramphorn, joint organiser, said the club was staggered by the support. "It started as something that was going to run for a year but it has just gone on and on and the results are remarkable.

"We are concerned the credit crunch was going to have an affect on the amount people would sponsor this year but it hasn't and £57,000 is a remarkable amount of money."

A number of organisations donated their time and equipment for free for the event. Dukes Barn outdoor pursuits group and training charity handled the ropes and descents, St John Ambulance provided medical cover and Three Valleys Water employees gave their time to be on site for the whole of the weekend.

The event was sponsored by Newhall Projects, BAA Stansted Community Matters and marketing company Pure Ingredients.

Mr Cramphorn added: "We would like to thank everybody who has made the event possible."

Make Race For Life a day to remember

THOUSANDS of women are set to descend on Harlow Town Park at the weekend for the start of one of the town's biggest fundraisers.

More than 3,000 people will be taking part in the Cancer Research UK's 5km Race for Life on Sunday and organisers are hoping even more will turn up to support them along the way.

Lucy Hynes, Harlow event manager for Race for Life which is being supported by the Star, said: "For the first time we are extending our Race for Life invitation to the whole community and asking everyone to join the fun.

"Many men come along to cheer their wives, girlfriends, mums and daughters over the finish line, which is fantastically motivating, and then go home. But at this year's event we've got all the ingredients for a brilliant day out – great food, dancing and fun so we are inviting our participants, their families, supporters and local residents to stay and make it a unique day to remember."

Attractions will include a live dance show from local group Hip Hop Pop as well as stands and children's activities.

Seek advice and help the homeless

A HARLOW-based architecture practice is offering homeowners the chance to get expert advice while raising funds to support Shelter, the housing and homelessness charity.

Architecture & Design Services, at Parndon Mill, is taking part in Architect in the House, a partnership between the Royal Institute of British Architects and Shelter.

It will give people across Harlow and the surrounding areas the opportunity to book an hour-long consultation with an architect to discuss anything from a loft conversion to a major renovation project. In return, homeowners are asked to donate a minimum of £40 to Shelter.

Mark Cotton, of Architecture & Design Services, said: "This is a great opportunity to see what an architect can do for you and your home by creating a totally tailored solution for your living needs and not just the drawings for your new home or alteration."

End of the road for arthritis group

A LOCAL branch of a national arthritis charity has been forced to fold after more than 30 years.

The Epping and Harlow group of the Arthritis Research Campaign held its final fundraiser, which made more than £1,000, before calling it a day due to a shortage of staff.

Since it was formed in 1977 it has raised £160,000 for arthritis research by holding tennis tournaments, golf matches, Christmas bazaars and summer lunches.

But recently it has failed to attract younger recruits to serve on the committee and so the decision was taken to disband.

Committee member Jean Hudspeth said: "We will all miss our meetings but hope to continue to assist other parties who may wish to raise funds for the Arthritis Research Campaign."

Stock plea by staff at new charity shop

STAFF at a new charity shop are urging the public to support its work by handing in donations of saleable items.

The St Elizabeth's outlet in Bush Fair will be raising money for the St Elizabeth Centre in Much Hadam which helps people of all ages with epilepsy and complex learning disabilities.

"Often people only think about donating to larger national charities which are already thriving," said a shop spokeswoman. "But with the current economic recession we are hoping people will call in to bag a bargain and come again."

Two injured in violent attacks

By LOUISE SASSOON
News Editor
sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

POLICE are investigating after two people were injured during separate attacks which occurred within a few hours of each other.

A 51-year-old man was left with a broken nose and other injuries after he was set upon in the Town Park by a group of four men as he walked in School Lane.

The victim was punched to the right side of the head and knocked to the floor. His assailants then ran off.

Police are appealing to a woman with a young child who went to the man's aid to contact them.

All of the suspects were described as being in their late teens and of slim build.

The attack took place at about 7.40pm on Friday, April 24.

A few hours later a 23-year-old

Businessman robbed of takings on way to bank

A MAN was robbed of several thousands of pounds after he was attacked while on his way to the bank.

The victim, who is in his early 50s, had parked his black Jaguar car in Post Office Road, Harlow, and had got out to bank his business takings when he was struck from behind and knocked to the ground.

It is thought two men may have involved in the robbery.

The victim was taken to hospital but released after receiving treatment for minor cuts and bruises.

Anyone with information about the robbery, which happened at about 3.10pm last Monday, (April 27) should call Detective Constable Kev Winn on 0300 333 4444.

Before the attack she was involved in a verbal altercation with a couple who were walking towards her. She was knocked to the ground by a man and then kicked and punched, as a result of which she suffered bruising to her body and head.

Her attacker is described as white, aged in his mid to late 20s with blonde hair, slim and tall. He was wearing jeans and a T-shirt.

Euro MP welcomes Czech party during visit to town

TIES between Harlow and the Czech Republic were strengthened this week when a delegation from Prague was welcomed to the town by Essex Euro MP Richard Howitt.

A community group – including the mayor, councillors and a local football team – arrived at the Great Parndon Community Centre on Thursday to take part in a weekend of events designed to forge even closer links between the district of Prague 15 and Harlow.

Members of the visiting group and Mr Howitt then discussed how European funding could be used to develop the friendship.

"It is great that such close ties have been forged between our two communities and I'm thrilled to have the opportunity to welcome the representatives from Prague 15 into the area," Mr Howitt said this week.

"This relationship benefits people of all ages in Harlow, from young foot-

Square up to a night of musical memories

HARLOW'S rich musical heritage has been well-documented on these pages in the past, partly in thanks to the free music concerts held in the Town Park and, of course, the live music venue The Square.

Now the plethora of bands who have called the town home since they were knee-high to a grasshopper will relieve their lost youth and generate the sounds of the 1970s in a one-off concert to be held later this month.

Among the line up will be ALIAS, the 'legendary' Harlow psychedelic blues funk band featuring original members John 'Gypie' Mayo, John 'Cully' Culleton and Brian Wren.

Support will come in the form of 1980s rock 'n' rollers The Cobras, who will be reforming for the night, and Bedrock Station who will feature a line-up of musicians who at times were with old Harlow bands Topaz, Playground Heroes and Roadworks.

The concert takes place at The Square in Fourth Avenue on May 23.

The Orange pub had real appeal

By LOUISE SASSOON

News Editor

sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WINDING down with a drink after a hard day at work is a popular pastime, if not a tradition. And residents of Harlow are spoilt for choice when it comes to hostelrys.

Back in the 1970s the Orange Footman was the place to go, with the huge building laying on a varied assortment of entertainment for the drinking public to enjoy.

Spread over three storeys and occupying the site which is now taken by the Blockbuster video store at Staple Tye, men and women young and old stopped by to have a glass or two of their favourite tippie and socialise with friends.

"There was usually a band playing on the middle floor of the pub and they had strippers come in to entertain the drinkers on a Sunday," said a former regular who has written to Nostalgia to share their memories.

"It was huge and it was a really good place to go and meet friends or sit and drink with people because it had booths with really long curtains coming down. People could get up to anything if they had wanted!

"It was very popular and I think the landlady was called Maureen and she had a big Alsatian dog.

"All my mates used to go there because it was the place to be at the time and I was heartbroken when it closed after a fire in the 1980s because it was my local.

"It was a shame because when it went they decided to redevelop the Staple Tye area and now it's all takeaways. It had a lot of memories for me but now the area is unrecognisable."

Do you remember drinking in the Orange Footman or any other Harlow pub which has since been replaced by housing or shops? Write to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW, email sassoonl@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

POLICE PLEA FOR HELP

Harlow police are urging the public to help them in their bid to beat the high rate of car thefts in the town. On average 50 cars a week are taken but this could be lowered if the public are on their guard and alert the police to anything suspicious, according to Detective Chief Inspector Derek Cass.

SUPPORT FOR MINERS

Harlow may be a long way from the nearest coal mine but the thoughts of many local people are with the striking miners. The Harlow District Trades Union collected nearly £133 for the Miners' Strike Fund with a collection on Saturday.

FURY OVER RAIL CUTS

British Rail will face the anger of Harlow commuters when it cuts both on peak and off peak services from the town station in May. Generally services have been cut from three to two trains an hour including the morning train used by commuters.

PAH medics in breast cancer treatment trial

SURGEONS at Harlow's Princess Alexandra Hospital are helping in the development of a new reconstruction technique for breast cancer patients.

Women in the early stage of the disease currently undergo an operation during which a lump and breast tissue is removed.

Now medics hope to use stem cell enriched fat from the patient's own body to rebuild the area.

Ashraf Patel, associate specialist in breast surgery, said: "We are one of three surgical teams in the United Kingdom to trial this new procedure as part of a multi-national clinical trial.

"Results from other centres are encouraging so we are excited about this technique of breast restoration."

Howard Bradpiece, lead clinician for breast surgery, added: "This technique could revolutionise the surgical approach to breast reconstruction."

August trial for car tot accused

A MAN is to stand trial at Chelmsford Crown Court in August accused of driving off in a car containing an eight-month-old baby in Brockles Mead, Harlow.

Kieran Armstrong (30), of no fixed address, was remanded in custody until August 3 by a judge on Tuesday after denying a charge of robbing a woman of her car keys on February 11 this year.

Undercover cop traps pair dealing in drugs

Shoppers out in force to meet Star Wars favourites

SHOPPERS had a close encounter of the sci-fi kind when they trooped down to the Harvey Centre at the weekend.

The centre teamed up with 3Darts Comics and Collectables, in Little Walk, to celebrate the worlds of sci-fi films and comics.

There were guest appearances by Jeremy Bulloch, who played bounty hunter Boba Fett in the original Star Wars trilogy, and Danny John-Jules from the cult TV show Red Dwarf.

Harvey Centre manager Bryan Young said: "It was a fantastic weekend for all concerned.

Harlow's science fiction fans, collectors, comic enthusiasts and children came out in their droves to meet some of the most iconic figures from recent film history.

"After the last time the Stormtroopers were in the centre there was such a demand for their return that I was delighted this has been accomplished."

TWO drug dealers caught in a police sting have been jailed for a total of seven years.

Stephanie Greenley (24), of Peters-wood, Harlow, was jailed for three years while her partner Eamon Kenny (49), of Fennells, Harlow, was sentenced to four years.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told the pair were caught by police officers taking part in a special operation set up to tackle the supply of drugs in Harlow.

When they were first approached by an undercover police officer posing as a customer, Greenley and Kenny had asked him to prove his identity and show them he was not wearing surveillance equipment as they had both previously been caught supplying drugs.

Richard Stevens, prosecuting, told the court they then agreed to provide heroin for £15. They met up the following day and Kenny walked to a car and was driven around the corner, returning a couple of minutes later.

He held out three wraps to Greenley who held out her hand for the officer to take one of them. It contained a 319 milligrams of heroin with a purity of 24 per cent.

Three similar transactions on two subsequent days involved 249 milligrams, 151 milligrams and 260 milligrams of varying percentages of purity.

Greenley pleaded guilty to supplying drugs worth around £15 while Kenny pleaded guilty to six offences of supplying or being concerned in the supply of heroin and cocaine on four occasions between September 17 and November 21 last year.

The court was told Greenley had previously been jailed for six months after breaching a suspended sentence for a similar offence.

Avi Chaudhary, representing Greenley, said in mitigation that at the time of the offences his client was an addict who sold drugs to feed her habit. However, he added she was not a hopeless case.

James Howard, representing Kenny, said he had only obtained the drugs to supply when asked for them and did not go round with them in his pockets to hand out.

Jailing the pair, Judge Peter Fenn warned them that if they appeared in court for a third time on similar charges they could expect sentences in the region of seven years.

"You must realise the great harm Class A drugs can cause," he said. "They wreck people's lives."

Times are hard for pets, too...

IT is not only people who are feeling the effects of the country's economic crisis. Animals are suffering as well.

Animal charities have reported a huge rise in the number of pets being abandoned. More than 30 animals are being dumped in England and Wales every day as their owners can no longer afford to look after them.

Last year the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals dealt with 11,586 abandoned animals, an increase of 4,239 compared to the 2007 figure.

One of the main reasons is that as the cost of looking after pets soars, many owners are struggling to find the money to pay for them.

And it's not just cats and dogs that are being dumped. Rabbits, hamsters and even some more exotic species are finding themselves unwanted, while the number of abandoned horses has more than doubled.

As well as people dumping animals, the RSPCA says it's also being swamped with calls from people seeking advice on how to cope with paying for their pets' food, vet bills and day-to-day care.

RSPCA officer Tim Wass said: "It is an offence to abandon any animal and there is never any excuse for doing so. But if people have pets which, for whatever reason, they can no longer care for then help and advice is always available from the RSPCA."

Join a team for great night out

WITH just a few weeks to go before this year's Midnight Walk in aid of St Clare Hospice, it is good to see so many teams signing up.

The latest group to give their support to this great fundraising event is the team from Holy Cross Pre-School in Harlow.

Team member Claire Selwood said: "When you go to hospital they take care of the patient but at the hospice they took care of the whole family."

Claire has experienced the care provided by St Clare when a member of her family spent time there.

"The Midnight Walk is a way of giving something back to the hospice after they took such good care of my relative."

Event fundraiser, Tracy Meale, said: "We would like to see 2,000 ladies taking part. Last year the sight was fantastic, but if we can get more people it will add even more to the atmosphere and to the total we can raise."

It is hoped this year's walk will raise £120,000, which would fund the hospice's in-patient unit for about five weeks. The unit provides specialist 24-hour care for eight patients at any one time.

The Midnight Walk takes place on Saturday, June 20.

Sign up today and help to paint the town pink

HUNDREDS of people have already registered to take part in this year's Midnight Walk but hundreds more are needed if the £120,000 target is to be reached.

Tracy Meale, event fundraiser for St Clare, said: "We have had lots of people sign up but entries have dried up recently, even though we have heard from lots of people saying they are planning to take part."

"We would love to see the sign-up forms flooding in next week or people wanting to take part can sign up on our website."

The 10km walk, which starts in Harlow town centre, follows a planned route along the town's streets and cycle paths. It is open to both men and women, as well as children aged over 14. Those aged 14 and 15 must be accompanied by a responsible adult who is registered to take part in the walk.

"We want to make this year even bigger than last year's hugely successful night," said Tracy. "Why not get a group of friends together and sign up to have a fun night and paint the town pink!"

Students with a flair for hair

HARLOW COLLEGE: Students on the college's hairdressing course were put through their paces when they took part in a challenge to cut styles based on various dancing themes.

Pupils from the Level 1 and Level 2 courses were given the task of creating designs for dancers performing the waltz, Latin, salsa and jive.

Each student was asked to work in one of the four categories and the four category winners went through to the grand final where they competed for the top prize of a £150 training voucher to spend in a Wella Training Studio plus a pair of professional hairdressing scissors.

English celebrations, by George

POTTER STREET PRIMARY: England's patron saint accompanied by a dragon stopped off at the school to visit children as part of a St George's Day celebration.

The children also had the chance to learn traditional dances and play traditional English games during the themed event.

"It was designed to raise the profile of St George's Day which can often get passed by," said a school spokeswoman.

"The children celebrated all things English and they enjoyed wellie and horseshoe throwing, cheese rolling and other traditional games. They also had the chance to learn traditional country dancing which they all thoroughly enjoyed."

Showcase for stage performers

ST MARK'S: The glamour of the French Riviera came to the Tripton Road school when delighted audiences enjoyed a dazzling musical adaptation of The Boyfriend.

There were three performances of the show which is set in the 1920s and tells the love story between a wealthy woman and a humble bellboy.

A school spokeswoman said: "All the pupils did extremely well, dancing and acting brilliantly. The three shows were thoroughly enjoyed by everybody who came to watch." (s)

Keeping in step with the spirit of May Day

LEAPFROG DAY NURSERY: Children at the nursery on the Harlow Business Park dazzled as they danced around the maypole on Friday as part of May Day celebrations, during which they learned about the history of the date.

It's all Greek as Players go for sex factor

ONE of Harlow's best-loved am-dram groups will show the ancient Greeks were just as partial to a bit of slap and tickle as liberal-minded modern theatregoers with an ambitious adaptation of Aristophanes' classic Lysistrata.

Opening at Moot Hall in The Stow on Thursday night, Moot House Players' latest production may not curry favour with the politically correct but promises to give a fascinating insight into the sexual politics of the ancient world.

Written around 411BC, Lysistrata follows the sexploits of its titular heroine as she leads a band of Hellenic women into a stand-off with their selfish partners.

Fed up with their men paying them cursory visits before heading off to battle, the newly-empowered women vow not to sleep with their husbands until lasting peace is declared.

Their victory is all but inevitable, but the ways in which they set about achieving their ultimate aim are both cunning and uproariously funny.

Director Rosemary Caswell said: "The adaptation we are using is by Ranjit Bolt and I was lucky enough to see Sir Peter Hall's production in the ancient theatre of Epidaurus a couple of summers ago.

"I cannot remember ever laughing so much at any play that I have seen before or since."

Osborne play still has 'shock' value

By CHRIS MOSS
moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AN award-winning drama group is preparing to tackle its most challenging production to date with an adaptation of a taboo-busting modern tragedy.

Hot on the heels of a double triumph at the National Operatic and Dramatic Association Awards, where the group netted two regional Best Drama accolades, Sawbridgeworth Players are busy rehearsing for the opening night of John Osborne's The Entertainer.

Hailed as a modern masterpiece, it follows washed-up comic Archie Rice and his desperate struggle to eke out a living in the twilight years of music hall.

With its frank and unflinching discussion of alternative youth culture, homosexuality and politics, the play attracted praise and controversy in equal measure upon its original release. Even today, director Mike Cranch warned the production was not for the faint-hearted.

"The Entertainer first hit the stage in 1956 and it was very controversial as it covered topics never aired in public before," he said. "John Osborne wrote with the intention of shocking, with references to homosexuality and extramarital affairs.

"The style of this play was then labelled 'kitchen sink drama', but today would be called a fly-on-the-wall experience.

"When Archie is performing the audience is transported to a tatty 1950s northern seaside theatre where they are expected to join in, but as he returns to his dreary digs they become voyeurs, watching him self-destruct, crushing the affections of those he loves.

"It has been a great pleasure directing this play, largely due to the great effort from the talented cast, the support from the techies and all the help and advice given to me by my wife."

● The show runs from May 14-16 at the Victoria Hall Theatre, in Bury Road, Old Harlow. Tickets cost £7.50 (£6 concessions) and are available from (07752) 161802 or online at www.sawbridgeworth-players.org.uk.

WIN A pair of tickets for a night at the opera

OPERA fans are in for a treat with new productions of Mozart's most popular comic opera Così fan tutte and David Alden's new rendering of Benjamin Britten's masterpiece Peter Grimes. The production originally premiered at the prestigious classical music festival in Aix-en-Provence in 2008 and now makes its much anticipated British debut at the London Coliseum.

STAR TREK
certificate 12A, 2h 06m

SPACE: the final frontier. This is the maiden voyage of a shiny, new Starship Enterprise under the captainship of director JJ Abrams.

Its mission: to revitalise a flagging yet beloved franchise, to breathe new life into iconic characters, to boldly go where so many have gone before.

Star Trek is a big budget re-imagining of the series, exploring the formative years of Kirk, Spock and their interplanetary cohorts.

Ardent fans of the universe created by Gene Roddenberry in the 1960s will take issue with some of the changes here, including the introduction of a forbidden romance and a time-travelling narrative thread. The new Star Trek also lacks an imposing villain and two hours simply isn't long enough to establish all of the crew in sufficient detail, but it is a solid building block for the future.

Michael Giacchino's orchestral score is deafening from the opening sequence set aboard the USS Kelvin, captained by George Kirk (Chris Hemsworth) whose wife Winona (Jennifer Morrison) is about to give birth. Many years later, a cocksure and impetuous James T Kirk (Chris Pine) enrolls at Starfleet Academy, making an instant friend in Dr Leonard McCoy (Karl Urban).

Some of the other recruits prove more difficult to win over, especially Spock (Zachary Quinto), until a Romulan attack on the Vulcan homeland unites the young men and women. With Captain Christopher Pike (Bruce Greenwood) at the helm, crewmembers Uhura (Zoe Saldana), Chekhov (Anton Yelchin) and Sulu (John Cho) guide the pristine USS Enterprise into battle.

But wily Romulan Nero has a few tricks up his sleeve, pushing poor Spock to the brink as he races to save his father and mother.

Star Trek is a boisterous adventure incorporating that most reliable of plot devices, a black hole, which allows the filmmakers to ride roughshod over the past. Action sequences are orchestrated at breakneck speed, enlivened with slick digital effects.

Pine inhabits his role with authority, but it is Quinto's portrayal of the emotionally conflicted first officer struggling to control the rage within which lingers the memory. Simon Pegg plays Scotty for laughs, providing comic relief from the bombardment of explosions, bone-crunching fist fights and edge of seat escapes.

Before this Star Trek even blasts off, a sequel is already pencilled in for stardate summer 2011.

for the kids

MADAGASCAR 2: BACK TO AFRICA. The former denizens of New York's Central Park Zoo do The Lion King thing in this fun sequel.

PINK PANTHER 2. Steve Martin stars as Inspector Clouseau falling down a chimney, donning the guise of a flamenco dancer and impersonating the Pope.

ANGELS AND DEMONS. The team behind the global phenomenon The Da Vinci Code returns with another bestselling novel by Dan Brown. Tom Hanks reprises his role as Harvard religious expert Robert Langdon, who once again finds that forces with ancient roots are willing to stop at nothing, even murder, to advance their goals.

tuesday classic

SPARTACUS. Kirk Douglas stars as the slave who leads a rebellion against the decadent Roman empire.

Eye-catching visuals in a dark fairy tale

new this week

CORALINE
certificate PG, 1h 40m

THERE'S no place like home in Coraline, the first ever stop-motion animated feature created in stereoscopic 3D.

This colourful yet thematically dark fairy tale has echoes of The Wizard of Oz and Alice In Wonderland as an 11-year-old girl confronts the evil that threatens her fractured family.

The eye-popping effects are used sparingly, but there are some neat flourishes like tunnels appearing to suck us in as they stretch back into the distance or a giant needle poking out of the screen, causing us to duck for cover.

The story revolves around young Coraline Jones (voiced by Dakota Fanning), who moves into the Pink Palace Apartments with her writer mother Mel (Teri Hatcher) and father Charlie (John Hodgman).

The apartment seems cold and the only child in the vicinity is a curious boy called Wybie Lovat (Robert Bailey Jr), who trundles around on a self-constructed, electric bicycle. To stave off boredom, Coraline explores her creaky, new home and meets the neighbours.

Then, one night, she uncovers a secret door leading from the living room to a parallel reality called Other World, where her Other Mother and Other Father provide her with all of the love, support and attention she craves.

The plucky heroine feels like she has stumbled into a living dream and considers staying in Other World for good. But there are myriad dangers in this fantastical realm which Coraline would do well to avoid.

A 4x4 that's fit for town

WHAT makes a 4x4 a 4x4? Is it the way it looks or the presence of four-wheel-drive mechanicals and at least a modicum of off-road ability? If it's the latter, Toyota's Urban Cruiser 4x4 is dangerously close to not being a 4x4 at all, but that won't matter to buyers who choose it for its chunky appearance, low running costs and general suitability for modern urban life.

Driving a 4x4 in the city is often portrayed as the social equivalent of piloting a speedboat around your local swimming pool, but the negative press has not deterred Toyota from developing an all-wheel-drive car specifically for use in town. With a name like Urban Cruiser, its purpose could hardly be any less ambiguous and the Japanese manufacturer is confident it can shed the stigma often attached to its contemporaries. The boom in compact 4x4s has been a defining feature of the market in recent years and Toyota was one of the first to book a place on that particular bandwagon with its RAV4. Now, mainstream marques that lack a compact 4x4 of some description are rare, but with the Urban Cruiser, Toyota could be reprising its talent for being quick to plug a gap in the market. Smaller than a RAV4 and without the off-road pretensions, the Urban Cruiser is an intriguing prospect in the sub-compact 4x4 sector.

TEST DRIVE Toyota Urban Cruiser

PRICE £14,500-£16,400 on the road

INSURANCE GROUPS 5-8 (est)

CO₂ EMISSIONS 129-130g/km

PERFORMANCE (1.4 D-4D)

0-60mph 12.7s, top speed 133mph

FUEL CONSUMPTION (1.4 D-4D) combined 57.7mpg

STANDARD SAFETY FEATURES

seven airbags, active head restraints, ABS, Brake Assist, brakeforce distribution, stability control, traction control

WILL IT FIT IN YOUR GARAGE? (in mm) length 3930, width 1725, height 1540

There are two- and four-wheel-drive versions, and even the 4x4 models use the Active Torque Control transmission from the RAV4 which directs power exclusively to the front wheels until a loss of traction is detected. If the wheels spin on an icy road or muddy car park, the system diverts drive to the rear in a bid to maintain forward progress. This means that, for the vast majority of the time in their native urban settings, all Urban Cruisers will run in 2WD mode.

The engines are small and economical. A 1.3-litre Dual VVT-i unit producing 99bhp is laid on for 2WD customers, while those with a taste for diesel and four driven wheels get a 1.4-litre D-4D common-rail diesel with 89bhp. Both come mated to a six-speed manual gearbox and achieve similar performance. The petrol engine can do 0-60mph in 12.5s and the diesel is 0.2s slower.

The Urban Cruiser is clearly no off-roader. It sits close to the ground, offering little more clearance than a standard hatchback. It doesn't immediately say 4x4 when you clap eyes on it. The impression is more one of a pumped-up hatchback. Distinctive styling is not something Toyota is known for, but the Urban Cruiser has it with those bulging wheel arches, the pronounced shoulder line and a front end that's chunkier than a Toblerone sandwich. The Urban Cruiser is certainly a compact customer, but the long wheelbase helps to deliver acceptable levels of interior space. A boot of 314 litres isn't bad and the 60:40 split rear seats up capacity to 749 litres when lowered. Inside the Urban Cruiser, there's a little more sparkle than in recent Toyota efforts. The novel instrument display is modelled on a radar screen and incorporates speedometer and tachometer dials within the same circle, secondary displays being then positioned to either side.

Standard equipment levels run to climate control, 16in alloy wheels, privacy glass, keyless entry and start, retractable door mirrors and a six-speaker stereo with wheel-mounted controls. It's positioned in the market below compact 4x4s like Toyota's own RAV4 and the Nissan X-Trail, alongside models that make little or no pretence at off-road ability, concentrating instead on rugged urban style. The Nissan Qashqai and Dodge Nitro spring to mind as obvious rivals.

The Urban Cruiser's tough looks lead you to expect a certain ruggedness should the worst come to the worst. Sure enough, the body structure incorporates Toyota's Minimal Intrusion Cabin System, which works to absorb impacts, distributing the forces around the vehicle and preserving the integrity of the passenger compartment. Seven airbags are fitted as standard, which is impressive in a car of this size, and active head restraints protect against whiplash. ABS, Brake Assist, brakeforce distribution, stability control and traction control are also standard, making this one of the best-equipped small cars around from a safety perspective.

Saying that all 4x4s are bad for the environment is like asserting that all cats are dangerous. At one extreme you have tigers with their big pointy teeth and huge V8 luxury 4x4s that are used exclusively for shopping or collecting the kids from school. Toyota is intent on installing its Urban Cruiser at the other end of the spectrum alongside the fluffiest kittens. To do this it has installed advanced, fuel-efficient engines; the 1.4-litre D-4D unit returns 57.7mpg on the combined cycle with 130g/km CO₂ emissions (the lowest emissions of any 4WD car using an internal combustion engine) and the 1.3-litre petrol gets 51.4mpg and 129g/km with the aid of its Stop & Start technology.

There are issues surrounding the 4x4 Urban Cruiser models which carry around a heavy 4x4 system that they may never need, but with the kind of economy the vehicle returns it can be forgiven this.

Toyota's effort definitely offers an attractive alternative to a mainstream hatch thanks to its elements of 4x4 practicality and style. Any injection of style into the manufacturer's product portfolio should be commended.

Get your brand closer to people's lives

No other medium is as close to people's hearts as Regional Press. Consumers consider it an integral part of their community. The effectiveness of regional press advertising in driving sales comes down to the simple fact that people prefer to do most of their spending close to where they live. Consumers' Choice V, a national consumer survey by TNS Media, found that regional press advertising is the most frequently acted upon, with 81% of people responding to it. No wonder brands enjoy a closer relationship with consumers when advertised in this, the most trusted and effective medium of all.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

INVEST TIME IN SECURING YOUR FUTURE... VISIT OUR RECRUITMENT FAIR ON THE 14TH MAY, see our advert in recruitment

During the last twelve months The Princess Alexandra Hospital has been placed amongst the country's top healthcare providers.

The Trust was named as the best non specialist hospital for having reported the lowest number of C-Difficile cases. The Accident and Emergency team continued to ensure that 98% of patients were seen and treated within four hours of arriving at the department.

The Healthcare Commission gave a 'Good' rating for both 'Use of Resources' and 'Quality of Services'. The maternity service, one of the fastest growing in the South East, received a 'better performer' rating in the Healthcare Commission's report on the quality of maternity services in England.

The Hospital is proud that it has successfully strengthened its financial position and overall operational effectiveness, whilst treating more patients, significantly reducing waiting times and creating a safer hospital environment.

For the coming year the Trust has committed millions of pounds to further improving the hospital. This includes investing in buildings, expanding services and recruiting more staff. If you are interested in working at The Princess Alexandra Hospital they would like to hear from you. Please visit www.pah.nhs.uk/jobs or see the advert in this week's newspaper.

ACCUROUnder 19 Leisure Scheme Coordinator

Accuro provides a range of services for children, young people and adults with a disability. One of these is our very successful Under 19 Social and Leisure Project for which we now wish to recruit a coordinator.

The purpose of our Under 19 Scheme is to provide leisure & social opportunities for young people with a disability aged 13 to 19 that otherwise would not exist. This is currently achieved by the provision of two social clubs that meet weekly during school term times (one in Saffron Walden on Monday evenings & the other on Wednesday evenings in Gt. Dunmow). There is also an annual holiday to Center Parcs and some activity days during the school summer holidays. During 2009 we will be re-launching a befriending scheme that will involve recruiting volunteers to support young people with a disability on a 1:1 basis so that they can participate in a range of leisure & social activities.

The role of the coordinator is to take the lead role in the delivery of these services and so previous experience of working with teenagers is desirable as is a positive attitude.

This is a part-time post for up to 26 hours per week at a salary of between £17,574 & £21,937 pro rata (depending upon qualifications/experience).

For an informal discussion about this exciting opportunity please contact Arthur Steward (CEO) on 01279 433667. An application pack can be obtained from: Accuro, Unit 1, Hastingswood Business Centre, Hastingswood, Harlow, Essex, CM17 9JH, by telephoning 01279 433117, or by e-mailing accuroharlow@aol.com

Cast your net for a Trout City win

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday May 8).

STRONG finishing TROUT CITY receives a welcome drop in grade this Friday, and looks perfectly drawn to be able to take advantage.

Running from his favourite trap one, Trout City should be able to avoid any crowding which may occur around the first two bends before unleashing a winning run down the back straight.

In-form GLORY

GEORGE looks set to make the early running and can hang on to second place. Supporters of SMOOTH ROYAL would have been in a state of shock after she somehow managed to throw away a winning opportunity here last week. She hasn't had much racing recently and may have just needed that run to get up to full fitness.

Expected to strip fitter tomorrow, she can lead from start to finish and compensate her followers.

Friday May 8 Selections:

7.30pm Treacle Gem; 7.45pm Smooth Royal; 8pm Alis Alix; 8.15pm Dark Oyster; 8.30pm Mandley Girl; 8.45pm Maybe Dan; 9pm Trotters El Zanc; 9.15pm Leas Lady; 9.30pm Treacle Express; 9.45pm Trout City; 10pm Jasons Flight; 10.15pm Classy Deposit.

The 18-year-old Harlow-based runner clocked 48.7 secs for his club, Chelmsford.

At Woodford in the National Young Athletes League, Harlow's Tom Richards (16) threw a new personal best (PB) of 51.57m to win the U-17 javelin.

Daniel Yaxley (16) was second in the 1,500m steeplechase in a PB of 4 mins 56.2s.

Lewis Chalk (12) gained second in the U-13 boys 1,500m in 5 mins 23 secs.

At the West Essex Schools trials, Billy Falconer (Passmores) jumped 1.90m in the high jump – an All England standard which equalled his indoor PB. Shane Storey (Passmores) gained a PB of 5.82m in the long jump, a national grade 2 leap.

Defeat condemns Epping to drop

EPHING were relegated from the senior premier division of the LFC Insurance Essex Olympian Football League after defeat in a 'six-pointer' at home to Ongar Town.

Danny Turpin scored for Epping while James Lodge, Lee Humphries and Ben Polly netted for Ongar Town in the 3-1 reverse.

It meant Epping could finish no higher than 13th in the 14-team league from which two teams are relegated.

Three days earlier, Epping had slumped to a 3-0 home defeat at the hands of Canning Town.

In the same division, a Michael Kennedy hat-trick guided Potter Street to a 3-0 home win over M&B Club on Tuesday.

Kennedy nodded home on 30 minutes and the hour mark.

He completed his hat-trick on 80 minutes with a shot from the edge of the box.

Young Hawks celebrate triumph

HARLOW Town FC's Under-13 team were celebrating after clinching the BAA Stansted West Essex & East Herts League Cup.

The side won 3-1 against Waltham Abbey.

After a very tight first 15 mins, Harlow took the lead with a shot from outside the box by Ezra Folan. Five minutes later Sam Smith made it 2-0 with a fine shot just inside the penalty area.

Waltham Abbey fought back and scored in the 25th minute.

The second half was very tight with both sides having chances before Harlow went 3-1 up on 55 minutes with a well-worked goal finished by Rhys Francis from close range.

Elsewhere, Link-based Ware FC won the West Essex & East Herts League U-12 Cup.

Ashley Winders hit a hat-trick in the 6-0 win over

Great start for Harlow Town

THERE was a great start to the season for Harlow Town Cricket Club as all three Herts & Essex League teams won their opening matches on Saturday.

After two back to back promotions the first team got their division two campaign off to an excellent start with a thumping nine-wicket win at Theydon Bois.

Theydon, relegated from division one last year, batted first and had a bad start as they lost a wicket to Ashley Alderson in the first over.

He was supported well by Shane Hooper, who later claimed the scalp of the dangerous looking Theydon skipper Rob Bullivant for 30.

The Town bowlers made full use of the seaming pitch as wickets began to fall at regular intervals.

Ben Burgh (34) showed a little resistance for Theydon who were bowled out for 138. Marc Lowers (3-19) and Dan Calver (3-23) were the pick of Town's bowlers.

In reply, Pat Yates hit an unbeaten 63 and was given good support by Jason Gladwin (28) and Shiraz Ali (31 not out) as Town cruised to victory with 14 overs to spare.

Harlow Town IIs (274-9; Karl Seecharan 59, Alfie Elston 39) thrashed Stansted Hall II (121) by 153 runs at home in division four.

In division seven, Shaun Alderson shone with the ball for Harlow thirds (89-

0) taking 5-17 as they thrashed Langley II (88) by 10 wickets.

In the first round of the ECB National Club Championship, Sawbridgeworth (215) lost at home to Enfield (216-7) on Sunday.

Sawbridgeworth batted first and were well placed on 183-4 with more than 11 overs left but then slumped to 215 all out. Enfield knocked off the target with six overs to spare.

Sawbo skipper Danny Wilson (72) and William Jones put on 113 in just 18 overs before Jones was caught at mid-wicket for 62.

Neil Tilley and Neil Shrimpton added a match-winning 126 in 21.2 overs for the visitors.

Shrimpton's 90-ball knock was ended by Andrew O'Donovan before Joe Hurst grabbed two wickets in four balls. Hurst finished with 4-26 but his efforts were in vain.

Netball team's district success

A SERIES of excellent displays secured silverware in a district netball tournament for a Harlow secondary school.

The Year 8 team at St Mark's School won the West Essex Schools U-14 Netball Championships. "We are very proud of their achievement," said assistant headteacher Mel Gunn.

Langley beaten in premier final

Quendon Ath 4, Langley Rangers 1

(Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League Premier Division Cup final)

SPIKE Bell was only on the pitch for 37 minutes but his influence played a large part in setting up Quendon Athletic's cup final win over Langley Rangers.

Before Bell went off with an ankle injury, he set up two goals and scored one in this Premier Division Cup final at Bishop's Stortford Football Club last Saturday.

Quendon were only reinstated into the final six days previously, when the Essex FA upheld an appeal over fielding an ineligible player.

Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League officials had originally thrown Quendon out of the competition.

Quendon scored two goals in the first three minutes.

Bell teed up both Adam Bicknell and Mitchell Das, who both fired in from the edge of the box.

On 23 minutes, Bell latched onto a goal kick from Anthony Choat and then lobbed Rangers keeper Jamie Clark to put Quendon 3-0 up.

Shortly before the break, the Harlow side reduced the deficit when Alex Lawrenson beat the offside trap before going on to rifle in.

Then on 54 minutes a corner from substitute Joseph Anderson took a deflection off a Rangers defender and went into the net for 4-1.

ANTHONY James hit no less than NINE goals as Alemite Athletic closed the gap on premier division leaders North Weald to five points.

The Harlow side still have four games in hand on Weald after their 13-1 destruction of Pelly House. Lewis Eaglestone grabbed a hat-trick. Jim Jackson also scored.

Division one leaders Heath Rovers suffered a blow with a surprise 2-1 loss at Avondale Rangers.

But second-placed Hatfield Heath reserves could not take advantage as they were held to a 3-3 draw at home to North Weald reserves.

Gary Branscombe, George Attrill and Paul Marshall scored for North Weald.

Thorley Park were held to a 3-3 draw at Potter Street A. Darren Moss, Craig Beute and Chris Reading found the net for the hosts.

Other results:- prem div – Loughton 4, Hatfield Heath 0. Div one – Sheering reserves 3, Lower Street 0; Albury 5, Dunmow Rhodes 2.

Trio axed by Hawks

THREE players have left Harlow Town FC and one more is set to go in the aftermath of Hawks' relegation from the Ryman League premier division.

Glen Alzapiedi has released keeper Jimmy Hasell, right-back Mark Taylor, plus central defender Paul Kear. Striker Jamie Richards has quit as he hopes to remain in the Ryman League premier division.

Alzapiedi said: "Jamie has every right to want to play at step three and we are playing at step four. He has received an offer from Billericay Town. He may go to Dartford."

The Hawks boss could axe four more as yet unnamed players – unless they show a marked improvement in pre-season training. "They have not done well enough but if they come back at the peak of fitness and are very competitive, they could force their way back in," said Alzapiedi.

The Harlow boss, who has appointed Peter Hammett to his coaching staff, is looking to bring in several new faces. Hammett is an experienced coach and is a Uefa B badge holder. "He has done coaching at Spurs and he will give us another eye," he said.

"He will be working on improving the defensive side of our game."

Physio Paul West-Hook has quit. He has not yet been replaced.

GB star unveils Harlow tennis club's plush new facility

AN ace was served for Harlow Lawn Tennis Club when Great Britain star Greg Rusedski officially opened the new indoor facility yesterday (Wednesday).

Around 50 people including members, youngs fans and councillors including Harlow Council Chairman Cllr Tony Hall, watched the former U.S. Open finalist unveil a special plaque at the Latton Bush club.

The 35-year-old, who won 15 singles titles on the pro circuit and was once ranked fourth in the world, was a smash hit with local primary school children.

He signed autographs and chatted with them, impressing everybody with his gracious and friendly manner.

Rusedski, who works for Sky Sports and the Lawn Tennis Association (LTA), was impressed with the Southern Way facility. It has four indoor courts and can incorporate small areas for mini tennis.

"It definitely helps to have access to courts all the year round. It's fantastic and a massive benefit and boost for the town," he told Star Sport. "It's a good opportunity for youngsters and all the generations to play tennis all the year round. Parents also have a crucial role to play if a youngster wants to make a career in tennis."

Rusedski practised with 20 youngsters from Harlow Lawn Tennis Club on the new indoor courts. These players are attached to the national LTA performance programme and were thrilled to learn from one of their heroes.

He added: "It would be wonderful if the children take up and continue with tennis. It's also important that they play other sports as you have to be athletic

Huge blow as cricket ace returns to India

JAMES Butler's Harlow have suffered a massive blow with the news that overseas cricket star Abhishek Jhunjhunwala has been recalled to play in India.

Jhunjhunwala, who made a club record score of 223 on his debut in the Essex League Cup win over Leigh-on-Sea 12 days ago, will miss the start of the season as he must fulfil Indian Cricket League commitments. "The BCCI [Board of Control for Cricket in India] lifted its ban on these players unexpectedly on Monday morning. This is a huge loss as he is probably the best bat in the League, let alone the division," said Butler.

Jhunjhunwala hit 53 in the Essex League Cup second round eight-wicket defeat by division one Loughton on Saturday, before flying back to India.

Harlow welcomed back captain

Butler but were without three key players in Luke Heskett, Zap Nazir and Nick Butler.

Harlow collapsed from 110-1 to 157 all out. Loughton cantered to 158-2 (full report and season preview at www.harlowstar.co.uk).

Harlow, who have signed all-rounder Jason McNally from Upminster, visit Walthamstow in their Essex League division two opener this Saturday.
